2027

10 - DAY DESERT, DUNE & WILDLIFE FLY-IN SAFARI

You could spend a lifetime exploring Namibia. Here we've assembled the highlights in the 10-day Desert, Dune & Wildlife Fly- in Safari – a journey of fascinating discovery that includes the Sossusvlei in the Namib-Naukluft Park, the Skeleton Coast, Damaraland and Etosha National Park.

The Namib Desert covers the entire Namibian coastline of over 1,500km and sweeps up to 200km inland. It is the planet's oldest desert and has an astonishing diversity of landscapes and habitats including the Great Sand Sea of Sossusvlei and the surreal Skeleton Coast north of Swakopmund.

Damaraland's scenic rocky outcrops and sandy riverbeds form a vast undulating landscape that shelters a variety of desert-adapted wildlife including elephant, rhino, lion and some rather hardy plains game.

Etosha National Park's plains game come to drink during the middle of the day when predators are most lethargic; thus it's not uncommon to have a collage of several different species in the same frame. Lions, elephants and several endemic species of antelope and birds - including 46 raptors - add to the game viewing excitement.

Sossusvlei

Area Overview

Namibia's most iconic landscape – towering rust-red dunes, bleached white pans and endless blue skies.

This is the world's oldest desert, where star dunes with up to five crests rise 300m into the air and rank among the biggest in the world; the dune valleys are marked by vast clay pans where the Tsauchab River gave up its fight to reach the sea more than 60,000 years ago.

Besides the dunes and pans of Sossusvlei and the wonder of Sesriem Canyon, a sideshow of activities and sights have developed around the region and there are plenty of game lodges that provide additional desert-adapted activities – a chance to delve deeper into the desert.

Plants and birds are the dominant life form in this desiccated realm, supporting a tiny world of mammals, reptiles and insects that, in the absence of coastal fog, seldom wander far from the river course and its pans.

Sundowner Drive - Namib Outpost

This afternoon embark on a game drive adventure in an open safari vehicle during your Sundowner Drive. Your experienced guide will share knowledge of the area and wildlife then stop at the perfect spot for a sundowner.

DAY 3

Sossusvlei Excursion - Namib Outpost

Join a guided tour of approximately six hours which includes Sossusvlei, Dead Vlei and the possibility to climb a mighty dune called Big Daddy.

The excursion starts before dawn at Namib Outpost with an early bird breakfast. Closed body 4x4 vehicles are used to negotiate the challenging sandy sections in Namib-Naukluft National Park, into one of Namibia's most iconic landscapes. Nestled within the Namib Desert, Sossusvlei is renowned for its towering red sand dunes, some of the highest in the world, which create a breathtaking backdrop for photography and exploration.

Arrive at Sossusvlei well before sunrise. The guides will tell you many fascinating details about the desert and its inhabitants. An unforgettable experience will be the red dunes of the Namib Sand Sea, a World Heritage Site. In addition to the majestic dunes, explore the surreal salt pan of Dead Vlei, where ancient camel thorn trees stand in stark contrast against the white clay pan and blue sky.

Return to the lodge early afternoon.

Swakopmund

Area Overview

Surrounded by the ancient Namib Desert and the inhospitable - but bounteous - Atlantic Ocean, Swakopmund is alive with activity and has a lot on offer for the adventure-seeker.

Half way between Namibia's top two attractions, Swakopmund makes for an ideal break to the vast distance between Sossusvlei and Etosha. Swakop's an unusual place. Poking out amidst palm trees are Bavarian spires and there's a lighthouse dating back to 1902. In fact, there's a very German feel to it all, with colonial buildings, German style restaurants and coffee shops selling German cakes. Add to that lots of restaurants, bars, a museum and a small aquarium and you get a bustling town popular with both tourists and Namibians.

And Swakopmund is more than just a quaint coastal town on the Skeleton Coast, it is the adventure centre of Namibia. Desert tours, sea kayaking and scenic flights are complimented by a host of adventure activities including quad biking, paragliding, sandboarding and skydiving. Certainly one of the best, and most unusual, places to visit in Namibia.

Day 4

Flight:

Sossusvlei – Swakopmund 1 hour & 30 minutes (scenic)

- Road transfer to airstrip for departure flight and to lodge on arrival
- Private charter scenic flight along the Skeleton Coast to Swakopmund
